DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

I. Applicant cancels claims 18-21 in his response filed 6/20/2005, and this application is in condition for allowance.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Regarding claim 1, the allowability, at least in part, resides in a system for communicating information between a power tool and an independent subsystem using a power cord of the tool as a signal conducting medium, fails to teach in part a controller disposed with said tool operable to recognize said input signal and to enter a communications mode of operation; an electronic module disposed within said tool for storing operational information relating to said power tool, said electronic module being in communication with said controller; wherein said controller obtains said operational information from said electronic module and causes periodic pulses, representative of said operational information, to be transmitted over said power cord in synchronization with said input signal; and wherein said interface system decodes said periodic pulses to obtain said operational information. Regarding claim 7, the allowability, at least in part, resides in a system for communicating information between a power tool having a power cord, an internal motor, a switch in communication with said power cord for switching on and off said motor, and a storage module for storing operational information relating to said tool, fails to teach in part a controller disposed with said tool and operatively coupled with said switch, said controller operating to recognize said input signal and to enter a communications mode of operation, said controller being in communication with said storage module; wherein said controller obtains said operational information from said electronic module and causes periodic pulses, representative of said operational information, to be transmitted over said power cord in synchronization with said input signal back to said interface subsystem; and wherein said interface system decodes said periodic pulses to obtain said operational information. Regarding claim 13, the allowability, at least in part, resides in a system for communicating information between a power tool having a power cord, an internal motor, a switch in communication with said power cord for switching on and off said motor, and a storage module for storing operational information relating to said tool, fails to teach in part an independent interface subsystem adapted to be coupled to said power cord for facilitating bi-directional communications with said power tool, via said power cord; said independent interface subsystem operating to initiate a communications mode between said power tool and said interface subsystem by applying an input signal having a frequency greater than 60 Hz and being of insufficient magnitude to cause rotation of said motor; and a controller disposed within a housing of said tool for recognizing said input signal and transmitting signal pulses, via said switch, corresponding to said stored operational information over said power cord back to said interface subsystem for decoding by said interface subsystem.

Art Unit: 2125

2. Claims 2-6, 8-12 and 14-17 are allowed for the same reasons above.
